

Aimont's robust range

Aimont is promoting its Trucker Wellingtons, which provide an alternative to traditional safety boots and shoes.

The seven-product range is ideal for those working in the construction, agriculture, utilities, food, chemical and general maintenance sectors because each boot features a steel toe-cap, robust sole unit and PVC/nitrile finish.

Wearer comfort is provided through the energy-absorption unit in the heel and through the air ventilation system, which has been specially designed to enable free air flow throughout the boot.
